4. Business Case for Attendance

PathVisions is the premier annual event dedicated exclusively to digital pathology and AI, bringing together 1,000+ leading experts, clinicians, researchers, and industry innovators. Attending directly supports our department's goals of clinical excellence, technology adoption, and leadership in laboratory medicine.

Value of Attendance

- Unique Educational Content: PathVisions offers practical sessions, oral presentations from world-class experts, ePoster sessions, and real-world case studies on digital pathology and AI that are not available elsewhere. Sessions address current implementation challenges and future directions.
- Networking with 1,000+ Experts: Direct access to a global community of digital pathology leaders, peers, and researchers provides opportunities for collaboration, partnerships, and knowledge exchange that will benefit our department year-round.
- Exhibit Hall & Technology Exposure: Hands-on evaluation of emerging digital pathology platforms, AI tools, and workflow solutions. Vendor meetings allow for direct comparison of products we are currently using or evaluating for future adoption.

- Actionable Insights: Focus on practical takeaways including new diagnostic workflows, AI-assisted pathology tools, and operational strategies that can be implemented immediately to improve patient care and departmental efficiency.
- Institutional Representation: Attendance at the leading digital pathology conference positions our institution as a forward-thinking leader in laboratory medicine and supports our departmental reputation in research and innovation.
